com·mit·mentFunction: noun

a : an agreement or pledge to do something in the future; especially : an engagement to marching band b : something pledged c : the state or an instance of being obligated or emotionally impelled

Marching Band is truly a team sport. Every member of the team plays the entire game. No one sits on the bench. One of the most important aspects of having a successful team is regular attendance. Each member of the team must make attending all rehearsals a high priority. Marching Band is not a complete team unless everyone is on the field. If you have a conflict, it is necessary to communicate with the directors as early as possible to ensure that the correct action can take place so the team will not be affected by the absence.

“The Eastview Marching Band is committed to excellence on and off the field. I am committed to being a positive and proud team member of the Eastview Marching Band. I have carefully read and understand the calendar and the commitments being asked of me and I am committed to the Eastview Marching Band for the 2017 season.”
